Bad Backache

Such agonies as some women suffer, every month, from backache!

Is it necessary? No. It can be prevented and relieved, when caused by female trouble, by taking a medicine with specific, curative action, on the female organs and functions, which acts by relieving the congestion, stopping the pain and building the organs and functions up to a proper state of health. Try.

WINE OF CARDUI WOMAN'S RELIEF

"I suffered for 15 years," writes Mrs. Malinda A. Akers, of Basham, Va., "with various female troubles. I had such a backache that it drew me over, so I could not stand straight. The doctors could not help me, so I took Cardui, and now I feel like a new woman."

EGYPTIAN RATS.

Mother of Parneses the Great Invented Hair Dyes.

We know that the ancient Egyptians painted and powdered themselves and curled their crimply hair and that the mother of Parneses the Great was clever enough to be the lady who invented hair dyes. Perhaps also she was the first to wear a pompadour, for at Akhimm, upper Egypt, has been found a hair rat, politely called "coiffeur support," by the Metropolitan museum, in New York city, which is several thousand years old. It is of a leathery material and more like the pads which are now in use, except that it is beautifully ornamented in a nice wheel design, which shows that the early Egyptians were a far more beautiful loving nation than we are, since the rat which was so support the hair was as handsomely decorated as if it had been worn outside.

There is also an ancient comb from Egypt, worn by some beautiful woman at the time of the Ptolemies. It is of bone and carefully carved and of a design which is still in use at the present day.

The ladies of Cleopatra's time evidently brushed their hair down from the crown over the face, adjusting the hair support as does the girl of today. Probably also they rattled their hair, combed it back and fastened it securely with the double tooth comb, or the comb may have been used to keep in place some of the numerous puffs which they wore.

Revolts At Cold Steel

"Your only hope," said the doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., suffering from severe rectal trouble, lies in an operation," "then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills," she writes, "and I'm wholly cured." They prevent Appendicitis, cure Constipation, Headache, 25c. at Severs Drug Store.

The Human Heart.

The heart of man is a book—nay, it is an encyclopedia of everything that has ever come within the range of human experience. It preserves an eternal record of all the stories in which it has played a part. It is strange what sad things may be hidden in its depth without giving any token of their existence. The heart may be gay and may send the smile mantling to the face, but all the while you see only the topmost stratum. In the graves beneath were to give to their dead the smiles would seem strangely out of place. It is just in this great earth of ours that renews self year after year and has not on its surface any token to tell what is the simple truth—that it has given glory to 200 generations of human beings.

If you need a pill take DeWitt's Little Early Remedy. It is on them; gentle, easy to take, little liver pills. Sold by all druggists.

Orange Snow.—Here is a festive little pudding for some stray luncheon which threatens to go without a dessert. It's a dainty concoction of oranges and custard and beaten whites of eggs. To make it squeeze two oranges and grate the rind of one. Add a small cupful of sugar, a pint of water and a tablespoonful of gelatin dissolved in a little cold water. Strain and add the beaten whites of three eggs. Pour into a mold and stir occasionally till it is set. Heat a cupful of milk and add the beaten yolks of the eggs and the juice of an orange. Cook till smooth. Cool and place around the pudding after it is turned out on a flat dish.

Croutons With Baked Apples.—Cut stale bread in half inch slices and cut a circular piece from each slice. Brush these all over with melted butter and brown in the oven. Core and pare as many medium sized apples as you have croutons. Mix a cupful of sugar and a cupful of boiling water and boil for six minutes. Then add the apples, cover closely and cook until tender. Then place in a baking dish with a little butter and sugar on each, the juice of a lemon and the sirup. Cover and bake for thirty minutes, then remove and place an apple on each crouton. Pour over them the sirup and serve hot.

New Pudding.—Cook one pint of cranberries and run them through a sieve to remove skins and seeds. Add the same bulk of sugar and enough gelatin to make a thick pudding, which can be cut into small squares. Place this in a large dish and dot with spoonfuls of apple jelly and shredded pineapple. Cover with whipped cream. It is not only an attractive dish, but it is very delicious.

Stops earache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hemorrhoids, one hour; muscleache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

The Difference.

Marriage is a good thing for single men," said the bridegroom elect. "Hum! Yes," remarked Mr. Henpeck, "for single men only."—New York Times.

The disappointment of manhood succeeds the delusion of youth.—Disraeli.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles a few years of suffering. At any drug store.

PERPETUAL YOUTH.

It Can Only Be Imparted to the Body Through the Mind.

The elixir of youth lies in the mind or nowhere. You cannot be young by trying to appear so, by dressing youthfully. You must first get rid of the last vestige of thought, of belief, that you are aging. As long as that is in mind cosmetics and youthful dress will amount to very little in changing your appearance. The conviction must first be changed; the thought which has produced the aging condition must be reversed.

If we can only establish the perpetual youth mental attitude, so that we feel young, we have won half the battle against old age. Be sure of this, that whatever you feel regarding your age will be expressed in your body.

Nothing else more effectually retards age than keeping in mind the bright, cheerful, optimistic, hopeful, buoyant picture of youth in all its splendor, magnificence; the alluring picture of the glories which belong to youth—youthful dreams, ideals, hopes and all the qualities which belong to young life. One great trouble with us is that our imaginations age prematurely. The hard, exacting conditions of our modern, strenuous life tend to harden and dry up the brain and nerve cells and thus seriously injure the power of the imagination, which should be kept fresh, buoyant, elastic.—Success Magazine.

Only a little cold in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of Nasal Catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed stuffed up air passages. Price 50c. If you prefer to use an atomizer, ask for Liquid Cream Balm. It has all the good qualities of the solid form of this remedy and will rid you of catarrh or hay fever. No mercury to dry out the secretion. Price 75c with spraying tube. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., New York.

He Mingled.

"Did you meet any of the members of the nobility when you were in Europe?" asked Miss Gushleigh. "Sure, I met between an earl and a viscount at a prize fight one evening."—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS

CLOVERPORT, KY.

Washington Once Gave Up

to three doctors, was kept in bed for five weeks. Blood-poison from a dog bite caused large, deep sores to develop on his leg. The doctors failed. The "Bucklen's Arnica Salve" completely cured me," writes John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex. For eczema, boils, burns and piles its supreme. See at Severs Drug Store.

Hailstones That Kill Cattle.

"Hailstones as big as baseballs—hail stones that kill cattle!"

"Rubbish!"

"It is the truth," declared the wealthy man. "These hailstones fall in the neighborhood of the Sierra Tapalirren near Buenos Aires. Darwin himself is my witness. Darwin testifies for me in his splendid book, 'The Voyage of the Beagle.'"

"The great scientist saw what I saw, hailstones the size of oranges, crashing and smashing with a noise like a railroad collision. After the storm he came upon thirteen dead deer and fifteen dead ostriches. His companions saw several ostriches blinded in one eye and another ostrich running furiously in crazy circles, blinded in both eyes, by those terrible stones."

"What I saw was a herd of forty cattle, all lying dead. About them the grass was gray and white with slain birds—ducks, hawks, partridges."

The Ancient Stone Slingers.

It has been said that Asiatic nations excelled others in the use of the sling, and the slingers of an ancient army used their little weapons with terrible effect. "These natives have such skill," says one old historian, "that it very rarely happens that they miss their aim. What makes them so great in the use of the sling is the training given them from their earliest years by their mothers, who set up a piece of bread hung at the end of a rod for a target and let their children remain without food until they have hit it, when the child who is the victor receives the bread as the reward of his skill and patience."
